

As a backdrop to any wedding Likoma Island is difficult to surpass, whether it is the natural beauty of the island or the gentleness of the local community. Kaya Mawa can arrange all your wedding requirements to make it as special as it should be.

Likoma Island is essentially Anglican but almost every religion is represented in some form or fashion.

Likoma Cathedral

The cathedral is steeped in history and can seat up to 1000 people, completed in 1906 and definitely the grandest venue available it is located in the main settlement.

o if you are planning an intimate affair this may not be the right place for you. However if you are looking for that extra special wow factor, then look no further

St Marks Church

Situated within a 10 minute stroll of Kaya Mawa this church predates the cathedral by 4 years-it is much smaller than the cathedral and oozes character.

The choir and singing here is fantastic with great acoustics in the church. It is our local church so don't be surprised if some of the village turn up, they love a good a wedding! Due to the proximity to Kaya Mawa St Peters tends to be the favoured choice for church weddings.

On the Beach?

Likoma Island is blessed with beautiful beaches and Kaya Mawa has the means to get you there. We do have four spots of our own which couples in the past have favoured. Whether it is the view point, the gazebo, the main beach or under the baobabs trees (all these spots can be seen on our website). However if you spot somewhere else you would rather tie the knot then let us know and we can probably arrange it. We can do the whole show for you, from the choir to the pastor, petals strewn on the beach or a boat covered in bougainvillea as the bride arrives.

Back at Kaya Mawa.

Whether the wedding party is 2 or 25 we can make sure you finish the day off on the right note. From an intimate dinner for two to dancing into the morning with family and friends.

If we have enough notice, and remember we are an island in Malawi, we will do our best to meet every request to make the day perfect.

It must be noted that while we can organise a wedding that is entirely legal according to the laws of Malawi it will be the responsibility of the wedded to check that the ceremony is legally binding in their country of residence.

There are formalities required, please contact us to ensure that we have all the details required at least one month prior to the wedding date.
